

Space theme for seventh forest event

ORGANISERS ARE predicting a record-breaking Enchanted Forest event this year, its seventh.

Big Tree Country announced yesterday that they expect the light and sound extravaganza near Pitlochry to attract more than 20,000 visitors.

The theme for this year's show, which takes place between October 17 and November 2 at Faskally Wood, is A Journey Through Space.

Faskally Wood will be transformed into an astronomical playground, an appropriate trailer for the approaching celebrations of International Year of Astronomy in 2009.

After lift-off—a shuttle bus from Pitlochry—visitors have an opportunity to explore their new world, making their way around the paved walk, exploring new landscapes and encountering some of our best known extra-terrestrials (there is a children's play area at Et Wood) before returning to earth.

A scene from last year's Enchanted Forest event.